Parent of Maher Mehta, Class VII-C (Academic Year 2024–25)

As the parent of Maher Mehta, a student of Class VII-C, I take immense pride in being associated with Oxford Public School—a centre of academic excellence and progressive pedagogy.

What sets the institution apart is its thoughtfully curated curriculum and dynamic instructional approach, which transcend conventional methods of teaching. The school's well-structured, concept-enriching worksheets foster analytical thinking and encourage students to explore beyond the confines of textbooks.

The unwavering dedication and tireless efforts of the educators are truly admirable. Their consistent commitment to nurturing young minds with both knowledge and values is not only visible but deeply commendable.

It is with sincere appreciation that I acknowledge the relentless pursuit of quality education demonstrated by the school's management and faculty. Oxford Public School has created an environment where curiosity is nurtured, excellence is celebrated and holistic development is prioritised.

I remain deeply grateful for the profound impact this institution continues to have on my child's growth and learning journey.
